feel more open to discuss struggles with mental health and encourage staff to make their own wellbeing a priority. The simple gesture of receiving one of our care packages helps employees to feel cared for by their employer and can help to increase a sense of belonging and motivation, especially when working from home.

Our care packages provide a practical tangible way to deliver wellbeing to the door or desk including Virtual Talking Therapy. COVID 19 and Corporate Wellbeing now and beyond

The implications of the virus outbreak for everyone's health and well-being during and after the pandemic are significant, including on employees mental health. Our employee care packages help to encourage employees to have a good self-care routine including a healthy approach to diet, relaxation and sleep.

Given the current strain placed on individuals by the COVID-19 pandemic, it's critical that employers step up support for the health and well-being of their staff.

Many employers are already creating healthy, inclusive workplaces understanding the links between wellness, productivity, attraction and retention. COVID-19 has raised employee wellness up on companies' business agenda by supporting staff to work from home.
